| At the end of the | day       |  When you turn out the | light      |
  D                       C     G       D                          C     G       D
| As you drift off to | sleep     |  and your burdens take | flight     |     |

  Em                    F              C                     G
| You might feel a | moment of | "It's going to be" | okay", but |
  Em                 F            C                  D7
| if you're like | me then | you might just | say      |
```

| Come now  and | sing it with me. |
```

| When you're laying a | wake      |  and you're feeling a | lone      |
  D                       C     G       D                          C    G      D
| It can seem like a | curse     |  that is solely your | own       |     |

  Em                 F              C                          G
| Know that I'm | out there, | I've been there just like | you, if |
  Em                F            C                  D7
| it brings you | comfort | you can sing it | too      |
```

| I'm tired, |  but I just can't | sleep.   |  I could almost | weep but I don't have the | energy.  |
  C       G             D
| Come now  and | sing it with me. |
```

Verse 3

```
                                C     G       D                          C      G
| With the rolling of the | night     |  as our planet spins | 'round     |
  D                       C     G       D                          C     G       D
| If you listen real | close     |  you just might hear the | sound      |     |

  Em                 F            C                          G
| Of a chorus of | millions | who share this burden | too, and |
  Em                 F          C                  D7
| they're out there | singing | like me and | you      |
```
