                          C     G       D                          C    G
| At the end of the | day       | When you turn out the | light      |
  D                       C     G       D                          C    G      D
| As you drift off to | sleep     | and your burdens take | flight     |      |

  Em                  F             C                  G
| You might feel a | moment of | “It’s going to be” | okay”, but |
  Em              F           C                 D7
| if you’re like | me then | you might just | say      |
```

Chorus

```
        C     G  D                  C     G   D                  C          G                  D
| I’m tired, | but I just can’t | sleep.  | I could almost | weep but I don’t have the | energy. |

| Come now and | sing it with me. |
```

```
                            C     G       D                          C    G
| When you’re laying a | wake      | and you’re feeling a | lone       |
  D                      C     G       D                          C    G      D
| It can seem like a | curse     | that is solely your | own        |      |

  Em                F             C                  G
| Know that I’m | out there, | I’ve been there just like | you, if |
  Em              F           C                 D7
| it brings you | comfort | you can sing it | too      |
```

| I’m tired, | but I just can’t | sleep.  | I could almost | weep but I don’t have the | energy. |

| Come now and | sing it with me. |
```

```
                            C     G       D                          C    G
| With the rolling of the | night     | as our planet spins | ‘round     |
  D                      C     G       D                          C    G      D
| If you listen real | close     | you just might hear the | sound      |      |

  Em                F             C                  G
| Of a chorus of | millions | who share this burden | too, and |
  Em              F           C                 D7
| they’re out there | singing | like me and | you      |
