The Little Nut Tree

VERSE 1

D G D
I have a little nut tree nothing will it bear
G D A7 D
But a silver nutmeg and a golden pear

VERSE 2

D G D
The King of Spain's daughter came to visit me
G D G D A7 D
And all for the sake of my little nut tree

VERSE 3

D G D
Her dress was made of crimson and jet black was her hair
G D A7 D
She asked me for my nutmeg and my golden pear

VERSE 4

D G D
I said, "So fair a princess never did I see
G D G D A7 D
I'll give you all the fruit from my little nut tree"

SPOKEN BANTER — music tacet

Jecky interrupts

Jecky: Wait — you're just going to give it to her because she's pretty?

Bonathan: Well… she's also rich. And her father is the King of Spain. Very powerful.

Jecky: That makes it even worse. Let me get this straight.

You have a magical nutmeg tree that somehow also grows pears.

The fruit isn't even regular fruit — it's made of precious metals.

And you're just going to give it all to the pretty daughter of the richest, most powerful man in Spain?"

Bonathan: Well… what would you do?

Jecky: Well, I would tell that princess... wait, no, I'd rather sing it.

Bonathan: Alright... (starts playing)

VERSE 4 — Jecky's response

D G D
I said, "So fair a princess never did I see
G D G D A7 D
But if you want my fruit, it will not be free
